So, I Was Talking to my Buddy, Jack

As was reported in the last issue of Crapper my good buddy and faithful friend Jack the dog passed away this past 10/6/21. Jack was 16 years old at the time of his passing, but in his lifespan he had many adventures. Jack was a rescue dog not once but twice. He was literally on Death Row both times but was finally rescued by Linda and me. After becoming a member of our "Pack," Jack flew in my plane many times with us where he acquired the nickname "Jet Dog Jack." He and I also authored a book together which will be out in the next few months. Of course the book's title will be "Jet Dog Jack." Linda and I miss him terribly, but luckily, Jack is still coming to me in my dreams with his various views on current events. Therefore, as long as these dreams keep coming, I will keep you posted on Jack's views of various things.

Jack on Unvaccinated Illegals: "Dad, 'Brandon' is saying unvaccinated people are killing everyone, so why is he transporting unvaccinated illegals into our hometowns?" I had to agree with Jack and replied that in addition to that, every Democrat congressman and woman voted to NOT require mandatory vaccination of these same illegals. We both wonder why there are no vaccine mandates for welfare and unemployment recipients.

Jack on "Following the Science": "Dad, we are getting medical advice on the Wuhan flu from the very same guy who funded the creation of the Wuhan flu." I replied, "We should be following the money and not the science."

Jack on Marital Advice: "Dad, a thinking man is a quiet man." I replied, "Yeah, but never forget a quiet woman is quite often an angry woman."

Jack on Trusting the Media: "Dad, even up here in Dog Heaven they say don't always believe the Media." I had to completely agree with him and reminded him that in 1938 one of the World's greatest mass murderers, Adolph Hitler, was Time magazine's "Man of the Year."

Jack on Paying Illegal's: "Dad, can it be true that the United States government is considering paying up to $400,000 to illegal immigrant families who were separated for a time because they entered our country illegally?" I said that although it has not yet taken place, unbelievable as it may seem, it is being seriously talked about. We both wonder who is running our country when families of our own fallen servicemen; those who have given their lives for our country, only get $100,000. Jack told me that even up in Dog Heaven he is hearing other dogs say, "Let's go 'Brandon!'"

Jack on the Rittenhouse Trial: "Dad, I see that young man, who after being attacked and beaten by three rioters and having at one point a loaded gun at him, shot and killed a pedophile that had molested 5 little boys, a convicted wife abuser, and wounded a career criminal." I replied, "Yes, even though he was demonized in the press, he was acquitted of any murder charges." We both agreed that the Rittenhouse trial was a far cry

JUST SAYING!

It seems that, in our retirement, Linda and I are simply not seeing old friends enough. Not only are we are busy every single day, but we are in Arizona quite a bit of the year. And now that I'm out of the business world it seems we just don't see everyone like we used to.

That is one reason I have been writing Crapper Chronicles for these past few years. It is a way for us to stay in touch with old friends and gives me an excuse to keep writing. I hope you enjoy it, but since some of the times I get toooooo opinionated, be sure and let me know if you want off the "Crapper" list.

By the same token, if you want to add someone to the list, just shoot me an email and I'll get it done. Richard Farnham of Farnham Associates on the Big Island of Hawaii does my layout work and makes sure my email list is kept secure.

For past issues of the Crapper go to:
<http://www.tompkinspublishing.com/the-crapper-chronicles.html>

from the case of the career thug in another major city who, while high on drugs, died while resisting arrest. He then got a golden casket, streets and parks named after him, murals painted across America, and a statue in our Nation's capitol. It was a flashpoint for riots costing 2 billion dollars, and his family got a $27 million dollar award. Our conversation continued with me saying, "Let's not forget the 14 actual fallen heroes, the ones that were killed in the line of duty while guarding people at the airport in Afghanistan." "The only thing they received was a flag draped casket and 'Brandon' constantly looking at his watch."

Recent News: Reports are coming in of Brandon supporters recently caught delivering early 2022 mail-in ballots to several graveyards in the New York and Philadelphia areas.

US New Opium Grower?: Due to the huge influx of Afghan refugees coming to American shores, and in view of the fact their country is one of the premier opium growing regions in the world, I would expect we will soon be seeing much more opium being grown and produced in the US. Just guessing. Let's go "Brandon!"

Ever Notice: PETA is totally opposed to killing animals for food. Yet the vast majority of their members are perfectly OK with killing a living human fetus?

Good Restaurant: Romancing the Bean, #80 Rio Salado Parkway, Suite 120, Tempe, AZ. Their daily and weekly specials are posted at www.romancingthebean.com. Stop in and see owners Robert and LuAnn and enjoy their most excellent coffee, extensive desert menu, and daily lunch/sandwich/soup specials. I highly recommend the most excellent French dip or the even better Tuesday special, Reuben.

Conflict of Interest Anyone?: Attorney general Merrick Garland's daughter, Rebecca Garland, is married to Xan Tanner. Tanner is co founder and current president of Panorama Education. This is the "social learning" resource material provider to schools and educators that teach Critical Race Theory. See any conflict of interest issues here anyone?

How much is a Trillion?: Well, let's see. If you reduce a dollar to a second, a million dollars would be 12 days, a billion dollars would be 31 years, a TRILLION dollars would be 31,688 years. If you think these constant give away programs are fine, Jack and I are both curious; how is that cool aid tasting anyway?

Masks Highlight Differences in Clientele and Employees: I recently went to a Barnes and Noble book store to purchase the new book, The Laptop From Hell, which is a book about the suppression of the story surrounding Hunter's laptop. I noticed that although the store was packed, only myself and one other guy were NOT wearing a mask; everyone else was virtue signaling to the Wuhan. The somewhat aloof and disinterested employee I finally did locate told me I could "just order the book online." Of course, not wanting to take up his valuable time, later that day I did in fact order the book online; just not from Barnes and Noble.

After leaving Barnes and Noble I stopped at an ACE Hardware store to pick up a few items. That store as well was packed with shoppers. However, I never did see anyone, customer or employee, in that store wearing a mask. As usual, I had barely gotten in the door before an employee asked what he could help me find. He showed me the aisle where the goods were located; I made my purchase and was on my way. I won't be going back to Barnes and Noble, I like the crowd and the employees of ACE Hardware far better. Too bad ACE doesn't sell books!

Who is Exempt From Vaccines?: To be clear, Linda and I have gotten our J&J Wuhan vaccine but it is interesting to see who IS NOT required to take it. Here a few of them: White House Staff, Congress and Congressional Staff, Legislative and Judicial Branches, CDC Employees, FDA Employees, USPS Employees, NIAD Employees, Pfizer and Moderna Employees, and illegal immigrants. Oh yes, the prison guards in California do not need to take the vaccine either. I don't suppose the fact their union gave $1,500,000 to Governor Newsom's campaign had anything to do with it. When the law does not apply to the politicians you are not being governed, you are being ruled. Any questions?

Family Album Provides Superior Viewing: Linda and I recently took over 1300 family pictures and had them installed as a Screen saver on the TV's in our home. There is no doubt this new screen saver, which is a family history of literally generations of family events, provides a far better and richer viewing experience than hours of watching high priced athletes play games.

Wow, a Corporation with a Spine!: A San Francisco In and Out Burger was recently closed by the Health Department because they refused to demand photo ID from customers proving they had "taken the vaccine" before serving them. In and Out Burger stated, "We refuse to become the vaccination police for any government." Imagine. This is in a state that claims it is "Racist" to have to prove you are eligible to vote.

More Flawed Green Think: Recent studies show that to build a two megawatt wind generator tower takes 260 tons of steel. To produce the required steel takes well over 300 tons of iron ore, and 170 tons of coking coal. Of course all materials are transported and produced by hydrocarbons. The wind generator itself could spin until it falls apart and never come even remotely close to producing the amount of energy it took to build it.

"Brandon" Halts Keystone Pipeline Due to National Security?: Somehow it is possible for "Brandon," the current head mouthpiece for the Socialist agenda in Washington, to declare this needed pipeline project a "National Security Risk” and shut it down. This, of course, is nothing more than political payback from his party’s former head. None the less, whether it was “Brandon” or Barry responsible, they managed to shut down this project within days of “Brandon” being elected. This of course killed thousands of jobs and caused our country to once again be forced to depend on other nations for our needed supply of oil. I wouldn’t even mention this because it is now old news, but isn’t it funny that the amount of oil which would have flowed through this pipeline is almost the exact amount we are now forced to import from Russia and other offshore countries? Apparently buying from and enriching adversaries such as the Russians is not a “national security risk.” Or possibly, in the warped “green think” of the times, foreign oil does not pollute to the extent of American or Canadian oil? One thing is for certain, gasoline costs have skyrocketed and we as a nation are no longer energy independent. Let’s go “Brandon!”

Roomba Owners Alert: This reporter has recently been made aware of a glaring issue with the robotic home floor cleaning device called a Roomba. One of our loyal Crapper readers contacted me and warned me that if you have a dog in the house, and possibly this dog is not potty trained, or possibly you failed to get home in time to let the animal outside to “do his business,” and you have a Roomba in your home, it could very well be a ticking time bomb. This person had just this very thing happen where, in their absence, their dog had taken a dump on the floor. The Roomba, not having a working olfactory capability, attempted to robotically pick up said pile and instead of ingesting it managed instead to smear the dog poop throughout the home. To say the very least it was one smelly disgusting mess!!

Supply Line Disruption: If you think it’s too bad you can’t get delivery of your new car because of a “chip shortage” or “supply line disruptions” remember this; not getting your vehicle on time is a minor issue. However, if you look at one of the world’s revolutions, FOOD: the scarcity, lack of, and control of it is, in many cases, the trigger of violence and civil turmoil that can topple governments. If you want some supply line issues that really SHOULD worry you, look at the purchase of Smithfield Meat Processing by the Chinese. Smithfield controls a large percentage of our United States meat processing and, in addition, this major meat processing company also owns thousands of acres of American farmland.

In their November 2021 issue, Progressive Farmer Magazine reported that shortages of pork attributed to Wuhan Flu problems, were actually caused by the pork, being produced by Smithfield, was in fact being shipped, at that time, to China. Furthermore, right in North Dakota, it is reported that our own, formerly state of North Dakota owned, North Dakota Mill and Elevator has been recently bought by the Chinese. What are we hearing from our legislators? Silence. People, here in the United States we have never starved, and we as a nation are massively ignorant of the incalculable value of our family farmers and the unlimited supply of food they provide us, and indeed the world. Allowing foreign ownership, and especially Communist ownership, of our land and food supply is not just stupid, it is absolutely insane!

In My Opinion

The Real Pandemic is not Wuhan: Ever notice how the people who are calling “Racism” or “Diversity” on virtually everything the average American citizen is doing, are actually pushing “Communism.” These racism, gender equality and white privilege cries are a textbook example of how the socialist/communist bloc countries set things up to take their countries by tribalizing and dividing the people. Don’t believe me? Read your history! Now days, the vast majority of average thinking Americans realize something is up, but they are reluctant to speak out about it. In private, everyone I know is well aware that most of the nonsense reported in the media is just that...nonsense. Yet, to avoid arguments most do not discuss it publically.

If you don’t think this is happening in America consider just one crazy insane example: Her name is Ellie Marquart, and she set an Ivy League swimming record in the 500 meter Women’s Freestyle. Recently she was beaten by a male “transgender” (man with his male equipment removed) swimmer by 14 seconds! Read that again; in a sport where records are set in 100ths of a second this male swimmer, who because of his inescapable MALE body construction, has 40% more upper body muscle mass, more fast-twitch muscle fiber, more oxygenated blood, beat a woman by 14 seconds! Gee, this selfish jerk (he-she-it) “pseudo woman” should be so proud!

Basically, I don’t think average folks give a damn if a man wants to get his male equipment removed and get reconstructed so he can look like a female. Furthermore, due to the miniscule number of people in the general population who wish to do this to themselves, if these types of people left it at that, a sex change operation would be the biggest NON EVENT since Y2K. Yet, when this man/woman, with his undeniably more powerful body, is allowed to compete in women’s events, it simply kills the event for ALL of the actual biological women who have spent their entire lives working up to THEIR gender’s level of performance. If college sports authorities are so weak they refuse to confront insanity such as this, the naturally born female competitors could stop it immediately by simply refusing to compete in an event where one of these reconstructed men is entered. This would not be a capitulation on their part. It would simply show this stupid circus for just what it is; a ridiculous circus.

In these times, with insane events such as this literally being taken for granted, it is a good idea to remember the chilling words of mass murderer Adolf Hitler’s minister of Propaganda, Joseph Goebbels; “A lie repeated once is simply a lie. A lie repeated 1000 times becomes the truth to many.” In other words, when listening to and thinking about today’s insane lies, unproven and over sensationalized media propaganda; the absence of critical independent thinking, and herd mentality; not the Wuhan flu, are the real pandemic.

My Doggie Died

We bought a cute house
In a nice part of town
With a real nice yard
Where the grass ain't brown.

We keep the place up
Like folks are s'posed to,
But there're always those piles
Of doggie doo!

The mystery is,
And why my hands are tied,
Is that years ago,
My doggie died!

So why in the Hell
Do I shovel and clean,
Weeks on end,
To keep my lawn green?

Where are the curs
Who ruin my pride?
It's been years and years
Since my doggie died.

So I lie in wait
To see how it's true
That my yard keeps filling
With doggie doo.

And lo and behold,
I find in the end,
It's left by people,
I thought were my friends.

As I am reseeding
A spot that was wrecked,
Here comes Mrs. Jones,
With her doggie Rex.

She stops and chats
Till I am through,
While Rex is leaving,
Me doggie doo.

She says with a sigh,
"Oh Rex, you should wait,"
Then hurries off
As if she was late.

And she leaves me there
In an angry stew
With one more big pile
Of doggie doo!

Again I say,
Would I your yard defile?
Walk by your lawn,
And leave a big pile?

I guess what they say,
About dog owners is true.
They just don't care,
Where their pets leave doo.

To solve the problem
I've tried and tried,
And what makes me mad;
Is my doggie died!

But of course I still want
To live with these folks.
So I guess I'll stop,
With the threats and jokes.

All I can think of
That makes any sense,
Is to put up a bunch
Of chain link fence.

When the fence was built,
My wife was blunt.
She said, "There went the money
For your dream elk hunt."

So I sat in my chair,
Drank a beer, and cried,
"Damn it all, Honey,
My doggie died!"

Fables Come to Life in Today's Media

The Sky is Falling: It used to be a fable quoted as an example to teach young children the danger of overreacting to false information. It is important to remember that even though the media may now be treating unproven sensationalism as fact, none the less, The Sky is Falling, is still just a fable.

The Goose That Laid the Golden Egg: It could be compared to "Brandon" killing the United States economy, and our constitutional republic form of government, by trying to solve a nonexistent climate crisis that we did not cause, and cannot fix anyway.

The Boy Who Cried Wolf: This fable stresses that constant warnings about nonexistent threats will soon be ignored. The peril is that when an actual threat does arrive it too will be ignored. Such is the case when we are constantly being warned of the Wuhan Flu, but not much coverage is given to a Socialist/Communist takeover of our country.

The Grasshopper and the Ant: The final fable that comes to mind, and maybe the most important of the bunch, would be The Grasshopper and the Ant. This fable stresses the fact that just because there is plenty of food available, it is still a good idea to conserve and store up resources, in case of a future need. And folks, we are not just talking about toilet paper.

Who Gets Media Coverage on Climate Change

Greta Thunberg: Young girl, media darling, high school dropout, who reads from a script. She is not a scientist, yet gets 24/7/365 media coverage on any off-the-wall climate pronouncement she comes up with.

Dr Judith Curry: Climatologist. She has published over 140 scientific books and articles. She contends that "man caused" climate change is a total hoax. She gets NO media coverage.

World's Worst Polluters

The worst polluters of the world's oceans, in millions of metric tons, would be:

- 1 - China (gee what a surprise), 8.8 million metric tons.
- 2 - Indonesia, 3.2 million metric tons.
- 3 - The Philippines, 1.9 million metric tons.
- 4 - Vietnam, 1.8 million metric tons.
- 5 - Sri Lanka, 1.6 million metric tons.
- 6 - Egypt, 1.0 million metric tons.
- 7 - Thailand, 1.0 million metric tons.
- 8 - United States, 0.3 million metric tons.

Tell me again why you think we need to destroy the United States economy trying to fix the world's pollution problem. When you are done with that why don't you go buy some more Chinese products so you can help power their war machine, keep their political prisoners and child labor workers busy, and keep our American workers unemployed. Oh, by the way, China, the world's biggest polluter, did not even bother to show up at the recent big world summit on climate change. Once again, go ahead buy Chinese. They need all the money they can get to build new aircraft carriers and more hypersonic missiles.

Prayer Corner:

Thanks to all of you who have taken a moment to say a prayer for friends who are suffering from various illnesses. This Crapper please keep in mind Danny Schatz, Scotty Thomas, Anna Shirley and Eunice Neshem. They are all in the process of fighting various illnesses. There is no doubt your thoughts and prayers are needed and helpful. In this season of Thanksgiving and Reflection keep up the good work!

Once again, thanks for reading Crapper. Remember, we have our families, our friends, our health, and time. The rest is simply smoke and mirrors! God bless and protect our great country!
